DIGITAL GUEST EXPERIENCE FOR HOTELS

Your hotel. One QR. A clearer stay.

Guests scan the hotel's own code and open the information, programme, and departments that hotel published.

What GuestFor does

GuestFor is software for hotels. Each property publishes its own guest page, keeps its own content, and receives its own guest notes.

01 Keep guests informed

Information, activities, shows, and dining the hotel edits itself.

02 Listen and respond during the stay

A private note while the guest is still in the hotel, sent to the department that can act.

03 A separate record for every hotel

One hotel does not see another's guests, notes, or contacts.

WHY HOTELS USE IT

Less repetition. Clearer guest communication.

Find it on the phone
Guests read hours, venues, and the programme without waiting at the desk.

The hotel edits it
Content stays under the hotel's control.

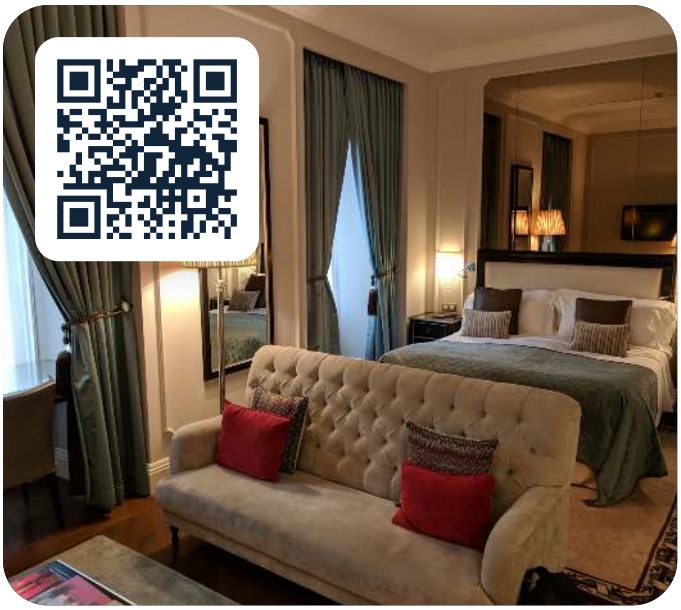

The right department
Notes reach housekeeping, dining, entertainment, reception, or guest relations.

The hotel's identity
Name, logo, and colours travel with the page.

Seven languages
Including Arabic, with a right-to-left layout.

One hotel. One record.
Each hotel keeps its own guests, notes, and contacts.

From the room to the right page

1 A code in the room

A small stand on the bedside table. The same code can sit on a restaurant table or beside the lift.

2 The guest scans

The phone camera reads the hotel's own code.

3 The hotel page opens

A welcome, the hotel name, and the modules that hotel published.

4 A module opens

Today's activities, with the time and the place.

Real screens from the live demo hotel

On the guest page

The hotel publishes and edits every module itself. Guests open them in the phone browser. No app to install.

Daily activities

The day's programme, with time and place.

Evening shows

The evening programme, presented for the guest's phone.

Restaurants and bars

Venues, hours, and menus the hotel publishes for its guests.

Hotel information

Guests read hours, venues, and the programme without waiting at the desk.

Ask a question

A private note while the guest is still in the hotel, sent to the department that can act.

Feedback

Notes reach housekeeping, dining, entertainment, reception, or guest relations.

Gallery

Name, logo, and colours travel with the page.

Seven languages

PREMIUM

Premium: bookings

Spa and wellness

Guests browse treatments and times. The spa team confirms the appointment.

À la carte dining

Guests request a table. The dining team confirms it.

Tours and excursions

Departure, meeting point, and group size stay with the hotel.

Activity booking

Selected activities can take a limited number of guests.

DURING THE STAY

For the hotel team

A guest can tell the hotel what needs attention. The hotel assigns the note to housekeeping, dining, entertainment, reception, engineering, or guest relations.

01
The guest writes a private note

02
The hotel sees the department and the priority

03
The desk assigns, notes, and closes it

A separate record per hotel
One hotel never sees another hotel's guests, notes or contacts.

Only what the stay needs
Name and room number are optional. No passport, card or ID number is collected.

Access by department
Staff see only their own department. Every change is written to an audit log.

Export and erasure
Guest requests and notes can be exported, and removed when a guest or the hotel asks.

General information, not legal advice. Each hotel remains the controller of its guests' data and is responsible for its own registrations and notices. GuestFor acts as processor under a data processing agreement.
